When you have a sincere desire
to draw and/or paint you CAN learn to do so.

Everyone is born with artistic potential not just a select few.

Rediscover your lost ability to draw and paint

It DOESN'T take long to learn, have to be hard, require a lot of supplies or space, to develop ability.

Love your creative self.
Let go of old
beliefs that say you can't.

Because you really CAN.

When you SEE like a fine artist you stop struggling and start drawing/painting.

In art you create
your own rules.
Simply look at the history of art
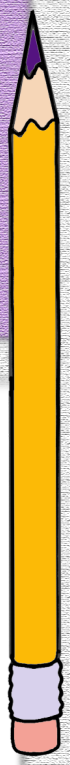
to know that is true.

The more you know
about yourself,
what you like
and don't like,
the easier it is
to draw and paint.



Creativity isn't
about perfection,
or making
other people
happy.
Your goals
are personal and personally
important.

Trust your eyes

Get out of your comfort zone.
Take a journey
of discovery
into your highest potential.
